WE NOMINATE

Hugh Stott Taylor, who, on the threshhold of his 71st birthday, continues to gain stature as one of the Western World's far-seeing educational statesmen and as a Princetonian whose opinions are sought wherever and whenever educators gather together. This week Sir Hugh, knighted in 1953 by both Pope Pius XII and Queen Elizabeth, was once again in the headlines as the Princeton-based Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation distributed a total of $1,814,000 to 75 graduate schools in this country and Canada in seeking to strengthen graduate education in general and in providing assistance for advanced graduate students.

Senior member of the Princeton University Faculty at the time of his "retirement" in 1958, and the fourth able educator to serve as Dean of Princeton's Graduate School, Taylor is rounding out his third year as quarterback of the most extensive, and intensive, "talent hunt" in the history of American higher education. At the moment, under the auspices of the Wilson Fellowship Foundation, 15 regional committees are screening nearly 11,000 nominees for the 1,200 Wilson Fellowships which will be awarded in early spring to the most promising "teacher candidates" suggested by faculty members in 1,100 colleges and universities.

The dramatic development of the Wilson Fellowships, currently supported by a $24,500,000 grant made by the Ford Foundation in 1957, has been closely linked with Taylor's years as an educational administrator—as opposed to his decades as a front-rank chemist and organizer of research projects. When Princeton announced the first four fellowships in 1945, in encouraging World War II veterans to consider the profession of teaching through an expense-free first year of graduate study, he was beginning his 13-year tenure as graduate dean. Five years later, with the expansion of the fellowship program on a limited nation-wide basis, Taylor became first chairman of the sponsoring committee of the American Association of Graduate Schools.

The logical choice as founding president of the Wilson Fellowship Foundation (32 Nassau Street), the post to which he was named in June, 1958, 10 days after his Princeton valediction, Taylor is one of the most outspoken of American educators. Among the first to decry the practice of permitting graduate studies to drag over a period of years, he shattered the adherents of "together-ness" last spring by declaring that "the professors have been paying for the students' babies." It was his understandable contention, in speaking to a conclave of student editors, that students should postpone marriage "at least until you have achieved the end point of your educational career."

Taylor, the strong advocate of a "cultural Marshall Plan" to enable the emergent nations to gain the intellectual strength and technical skills for the struggle with totalitarianism, first came to Princeton in 1914 for what he thought would be a brief visit. With the exception of a two-year interlude in Britain during World War I with the British Munitions Inventions Department and occasional journeys abroad in such capacities as president of Pax Romana and the Faraday Society, he has now devoted a half-century to the forward movement of education and science.

For meriting the accolade of a former President of the United States who stated last February on Taylor's 70th birthday, "I know you go forward now to further good work"; for his remarkable achievements as teacher, research scientist and executive; for "breaking trail" for those who must solve the problems presented by the nation's teacher shortages; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

SCHOOL BUDGETS READY

For Borough, Towoship. Proposed budgets for the next school year were announced this week by both the Borough and Township Boards of Education. On February 14, Borough voters will be asked to approve a budget of $1,581,268 —up five percent over the current year — and Township voters will pass on a budget of $1,333,283 — up four percent over the present allotment.

Also, there will be contests in each municipality for positions on the Boards of Education. In both Borough and Township, four candidates will contend for the three available seats.

Borough candidates are William K. Evans, 87 Jefferson Road, who is seeking the position left vacant by the retirement of Irving Mershon; Graham Rohrer, 45 Princeton Avenue, and Mrs. William Miller, 118 Wilson Road, both of whom are seeking re-election; and Elwin E. Smith, 156 Moore Street.

In the Township, the four candidates are A. Robert Trudel, 549 Stuart Road, an incumbent; Mrs. John McAndrew, 235 Edgerstoune Road; Mrs. Richard Schoch, 159 Valley Road; and Mrs. Donald Rugg, 92 Overbrook Drive.

THE LAST OF THE TREES: Twelfth Night, last Friday, was the occasion for a good bonfire on Cedar Lane when members of Messiah Lutheran Church brought their tired old Christmas trees around for a final burst of glory.

Borough. The Borough's new budget represents an increase of $73,461, almost five percent, over that of the current year.

Almost half of the increase will be paid for by raises in tuition from the sending districts. The high school tuition will be raised from $580 to $625, which is expected to produce $35,000 in additional revenue. The remaining $36,461 to be raised by the Borough is expected to boost the local tax rate for school purposes by 12 points. This compares with a 13-point increase last year.

Main reason for the higher budget is the new teacher salary schedule adopted in 1959 by the Boards of Education of both the Borough and the Township. The salary increase is being spread over three years, with 50 percent included in the 1960-61 budget, 25 percent more added into the 1961-62 budget, and 25 percent yet to come next year. This means that the present proposed budget includes 75 percent of the salary increase.

Total amount appropriated for teacher salaries in 1961-62 is $1,044,050, as compared with $983,750 n the current budget. Salary increases for the secretarial and custodial staffs are also included. In addition, the amount budgeted for libraries and audio-visual materials is up from $7,500 to $11,000.

Decrease in Students. The rise in next year's budget is also caused by an anticipated decrease in enrollment of 50 students from sending districts, with a corresponding loss in tuition revenue. Two sending districts, Lawrence Township and South Brunswick, are withdrawing completely. One other, Franklin Township, will send only seniors next year and then will withdraw the following year.

Districts which will continue to send students to Princeton High are Princeon Township, West Windsor, Hopewell Borough, Rocky Hill and Montgomery Township, all with contracts running through 1965 and Plainsboro, whose contract runs until 1966.

A public hearing on the new budget will be held Tuesday, January 24, at 8 p.m. at the Board of Education offices at the side entrance of Princeton High School. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Township. Most of the $161,462 increase in the Township's budget for 1961-62 can be traced to an increase in Township school population (additional teachers, more buses, textbooks and equipment); to salary increases; the higher tuition at Princeton High School; an increase in mandatory payments on past borrowings; and replacement of outmoded textbooks.

"The budget can be termed a 'tight one'," commented John S. Donal, Jr., chairman of the finance committee of the Board. "Based on a conservative estimate of Township rateables for the year 1961, the increase in school costs will account for a rise of about seven points in the current Township tax rate of $2.31 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. This is equivalent to an increase of $17.50 a year in the taxes on a house assessed at $25,000."

It has been estimated that there will be a $5 million increase in the Township tax base; that is, an increase from $7.9 million to 92.9 million.

Net current expenses in the new budget are $1,160,657, contrasted with $1,027,154 in the current year. This is an increase of 12 percent. The 1960-61 budget's current expenses were 14 percent higher than 1959-60.

About $81,000 of the budget increase is due to the 100 new pupils in Township schools. This means: six new teachers; 50 more pupils for whom to pay tuition at the high school, three new buses and more —Continued on Page 2

Ten Years Ago In Princeton

TOWN TOPICS, Jan. 11, 1951: In what amounted to a "Louisiana Purchase," Princeton University increased its land holdings from 1200 to 2000 acres in one step when it acquired the Rockefeller Institute tract and buildings on Route 1. . .the 800 acres and more than a score of buildings were bought for $1,500,000, and plans were announced for the creation of a research center in aeronautical engineering to be named in memory of James Forrestal.

Gov. Driscoll viewed the increasingly serious Korean fighting, urged that the state's largest metropolitan centers to build underground parking facilities which could be used as bomb shelters. . .on the finnencial scene, he hoped for avoidance of a state income or sales tex (just as ten years later—this week—Gov. Meyner hoped for avoidence of a state income or stiles tax.

Nemes in the news included Joseph S. Hoft, who was elected to the newly-created position of chairmen of the board at the First National Bank. . . Paul Giroux, sales manager at Turney Motors, who was directing the annual March of Dimes campeign... Bruce H. French and Thomas P. Cook who formed a law partnership with offices at 90 Nassau Street.

A housewerming was set for the newly-completed Trinity Parish Hall on Mercer Street, with Mrs. Sydney G. Stevens in charge of arrengements. . . The Smith College Club was readying its second annual suction under the direction of Mrs. Everett P. Tomlinson, who was being assisted by Mrs. Gregory Techebotarioff, Miss Eleanor A. Fair and Miss Virginia Roberts.

"Mr. Music" was the picture at The Playhouse, starring Bing Crosby, Charles Coburn and Groucho Marx, while the booking at The Garden was "All About Eve" with Anne Baxter and Bette Davis . . . in sports, Charlie Caldwell was in Dalles, Tex., as the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Football Coaches Association to mark his selection as 1950's "Coach of the Year" . . .Princeton High School's basketball team swamped Dunellen, 71-36, end B.M.I., 88-40, with Buster Thomas collecting 20 points in the first game and Howard Sweeney 16 in the latter. . . the Little Tigers were 4-1.

Entering 1951 on the Princeton business scene (but not 1961) were Nassau U-Drive It, a car rental agency at 255 Nassau. . .the Princeton Employment Agency at 170½ Nassau . . . the Rag Bag at 208 Ewing . . . Nasau Appliance Co. at 252 Nassau. . .The Hydrant, a pet shop at 6 Chambers, end Bootherstone Interiors, 10 Chembers. . . Sager's, a men's clothing store at 128 Nassau. . .Tri-County Floor and Well, 4 Chambers.

As talk increased of the possibility of full-scale warfare developing from the spreading Korean fighting, a community-wide drive for civilian defense volunteers was launched. . . Princetonians were asked to sign up as air raid wardens, spotters, fire and police reserves, nurse's aides, rescue and demolition workers. . . and the first state-wide air raid drill since 1944 was scheduled for January 16.

On the birth list at Princeton Hospital were sons to Mr. and Mrs. Hyman L. Battle Jr., 87 So. Stanworth; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bancroft, 28 Fisher; Mr. and Mrs. Tallman Bissell, 39 Mountain Avenue; daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sassman, Spruce Street; Mr. and Mrs. Karl D. Pettit, Harriet Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith, RD 1; Dr. and Mrs. Henry Abrams, 28 E. Stanworth.

textbooks and teaching supplies.

Incidentelly, the three new buses will follow existing routes. No new routes are planned.

Salaries to Rise. Almost $45,000 of the added funds are required to meet increases in the salary schedule that both the Bordugh and the Township adopted in 1959. More than $46,000 will be needed to pay the high school tuition which has been increased from $580 to $625 per pupil. There will be 54 more Township students attending the high school than there are this year.

Payments on loans contracted in the past will increase because last year, the Board had $28,000 in surplus money which it applied on the principal. There is no such surplus for this budget.

About $30,000 has been allotted for the replacement of old texts, the purchase of a bookkeeping machine so that the schools can handle increased payroll work without hiring another clerk and payment of the architect's preliminary fee. This sum will be recovered from the new school bond issue, if it is approved by the voters.

In addition, the Township Board has set aside $8,500 for library books to replace those formerly available through the Mercer County Library. In the past, the annual payment to the County has been $15,000. According to Dr. William Purcell, superintendent of schools, the Township plans to have, in three years, a permanent collection of its own books.

Federal Aid Coming. For the first time, the Township will receive Federal aid in 1961-62. The amount is $1700 which has been given for science and math equipment. Funds are available to secondary schools through the National Defense Education Act, but the Township is technically not eligible because its seventh and eighth grades are in the same building as the elementary grades. These two grades are normally considered "secondary" only if they are in a junior high building.

Dr. Purcell said that Dr. John McKenna, principal of Valley Road and assistant superintendent, had succeeded in obtaining Federal approval for the science and math request in spite of the technical disqualification.

Tuition payments from out-of-district pupils will bring in

BUSINESS UPTURN SEEN

By First National Bank. An upturn in business during the latter part of this year was predicted by John P. Poe, president of the First National Bank of Princeton, in his annual report this week to the bank's stockholders. "As of the present time, there are many areas of depressed business activity, which seem to bid fair to run on for a part, at least, of 1961," Mr. Poe said. "A pick up in business, with attendant demand for money, should come later in 1961."

Mr. Poe, who this week marked his 20th anniversary as president of the First National Bank, reported that its total resources had grown by almost $5 million in 1960. Total assets as of December 31, 1960, were $39,303,675, as compared with $34,509,089 on the same date in 1959. Last year's growth, he added, almost equals the total assets of the bank in 1935.

The bank's net earnings, Mr. Poe said, increased from $198,080 in 1959 to $208,528 in 1960. He added that the increase would have been larger if the bank had not raised the rate of interest on savings deposits from 2 percent to 3 percent, at a cost of nearly $90,000.

In addition, dividends of $12 a share were paid, the same as in 1959; valuation reserves against possible future losses were increased, and slightly more than $100,000 was added to capital funds. (A detailed Statement of Condition is printed on page 22 of this issue of TOWN TOPICS.)

Loans Up $1 Million. The First National Bank's largest asset, its loans, increased nearly $1 million during the year to a total of more than $16 million. The loans, Mr. Poe said, "represent our effort to serve the needs of the rapidly-growing Princeton community. They are in good condition, well-secured by pledged collateral or high credit standing, and are clean and clear of any serious problems."

Mr. Poe reported that the electronic bookkeeping system was a big factor in helping the bank to handle a constantly mounting volume of business. Continuing growth at the West Windsor office, he added, necessitated the expansion of the parking area there.

PROGRESS REPORTED
Toward New Parking Lot

Borough Attorney John McCarthy reported at the meeting of Mayor and Council Tuesday night that he has submitted forms of option to three of the six property owners whose land the Borough hopes to acquire for the proposed Vandeventer-Park Place parking yard.

Mr. McCarthy said the work of acquiring land was proceeding according to schedule and that the forms of deed and lease are subject to the approval of property owners affected.

LIKE THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER, the snow that struck Princeton over a month ago is still very much on the scene. These pictures, which can be duplicated throughout the community, are evidence of unusually slow removal in both Borough and Township, to the detriment of motorist, pedestrian and safety alike. Top left: the intersection of Route 206 and Valley Road, a "school crossing" with anything but full visibility. Lower left: a Washington Road scene—typical of many a heavily-traveled street—shows how far cars must still park from the curb. Above: spinning wheels . . . "rock it back and forth while we push" . . . it's still possible to get stuck if a careless driver ventures too close to a snowbank which even now can be a good two to three feet high. about $26,000. There is an appropriated balence of $9,600 made possible by money earned from short-term investment of construction funds during the building of Johnson Park and Riverside schools.

The proposed budget has been approved by the Mercer County Superintendent of Schools. A public hearing on the budget will be held in the cafeteria of Valley Road School at 8 p.m. on Thursday, January 26.

ROUND-UP

The TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund has topped $4000 for the first time since it was established 14 years ago... it reached $4024.91 this week, with the number of individual gifts also greater than ever before.

The unusual cold this winter was interrupted briefly on Saturday, when the thermometer touched 50—a good 36 degrees higher than last week's low of 14...belmler temperatures are in store for the next three or four days but the long-range forecast for the rest of January is "below normal temperatures and above average precipitation."

Washington Road bridge was the scene Monday afternoon shortly after 5:30 of a five-car chain accident... Township police report that Irving Goldberg, 50, of Roosevelt stopped to pick up a hitch-hiker and four other cars piled into each other behind him... only other Princeton area driver involved was Gordon Clayton, 19, of Princeton Junction...Township police have altered their report on the January 3d accident involving Philip J. Golden, 707 Kingston Road, to show that he was turning into (not leaving) his driveway when struck by a car driven by Peter DeFalco, 72 Witherspoon.

The OK Bar at 18 Lytle Street was robbed of about $65 while it was closed on Saturday... Mrs. Therese Nini, 17 Maclean Street, the proprietor, reported that a rear window was thrmbled.

Sunset Serenade

His nose bright red,
The wintry sun
Crawls into bed
And sighs, "I'm done—
I'm tired and cold,"
He says, "Good night!"
Pulls up the hills,
Winks out the light.

—Slee P. Head

The sun is still heading for bed early these days, but he is around a little longer than last month. And in another couple of weeks, he'll be getting up a bit earlier, too.

But there's plenty of winter left. The next two days will be milder than usuel, but a colder trend is due by Saturday. Possibly a touch of rain, too, but nothing heavy.

The state may stiffen the point system for new drivers, if the Division of Motor Vehicles takes up the suggestion of the State Traffic Safety Council... the recommendations include revocation of license for four points during the first year of driving, or eight during two years.

The present system makes a driver liable to loss of license for 12 points over a three-year period. Teen-age licenses are considered conditional at present and may be revoked at any time for cause.

Dog owners' note: licenses expire this month... they may be renewed during the clerks' office hours at Borough or Township Hall.

There's a market for just about everything, so the readers' of classified ads will tell you... this week, if you've an old cupola, a TOWN TOPICS advertiser would like to buy it.

Councilman Walker asked the Council to take action to split Borough election district three. He noted that the district's population has grown rapidly in recent years. The alternative of redistricting in light of decreased population of district four was proposed, and Mayor Male instructed the Borough Clerk and Attorney to investigate legal and procedural problems involved.

If Council should approve either course of action, it would be the first time since before World War II that Borough election districts have been radically changed.

In other action, Council confirmed the election of Angus L. McBryde Jr. to membership in Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 Councilman Coyle reported that a new police car is expected to be delivered within ten days.

GREY FARM SETTLED

But University Unhappy. The Township Planning Board repeated on Monday night its policy on the University's Grey Farm development, Maclean Circle section: the University has the Board's approval to proceed with its plan, but it must build curbs, sidewalks, a 30-foot road and an extension of Lake Drive connecting Longview and Maclean Circle.

When the Board accepted the final Grey Farm plan on December 21, it gave the University the option of choosing a loop or a "U" forMaclean Circle, and at Monday night's meeting, Alfred L. Test, director of the University's real estate department, exercised that option and told the Board the University preferred the loop.

"I exercise this option very regretfully," Mr. Test said. "You leave me no recourse."

Mr. Test does not want the Lake Drive link. Neither do several residents of the Riverside area, some of whom attended Monday night's meeting. The Planning Board believes that the Lake Drive link is necessary to keep Maclean Circle from being bottled up in case of fire or other emergency.

Samuel Frothingham, Planning Board chairman, said that the Board had considered several temporary solutions to the problem, including that of blocking the extension off with a chain, and had discarded them all as inadequate.

Residents Protest. Through his attorney, Charles E. Farrington, Charles Petzold, 179 Longview Drive, protested that the Board had taken its final Grey Farm action without proper notification to property owners in the area.

"The approving action was taken at a meeting wa knew nothing about," Mr. Farrington said.

Mr. Frothingham then asked why so many Riverside residents had been present at the November meeting if it were true that nobody knew anything about it. He was told that Mr. Test had made several phone calls to residents telling them the meeting was to take place.

FIVE PLAYS LISTED

For APA Winter Season. The five Shakespearean plays to be presented at McCarter Theater by the Association of Producing Artists will be "King Lear," "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Hamlet." The plays will be presented on a repertory basis beginning Friday, February 3, and continuing through March 25.

This marks a change from the APA format this Fall, when different plays were presented consecutively on a weekly basis. During the coming winter season, the APA will introduce a new play approximately once every 10 days and then plays will be repeated throughout the season. Performances will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, with special matinees for students on Thursdays and usually an additional matinee on Sunday.

The upcoming Shakespearian repertory is considered a particularly appropriate choice for the APA's first winter series, since many APA performers have performed Shakespeare previously. Ellis Rabb, the company's artistic director, has acted in all of Shakespeare's plays, and Richard Easton, one of the leading men, has played the three Stratfords.

Many others in the APA company are classically-trained actors and actresses. They have performed Shakespeare with the Antioch (Ohio) Shakespeare Group and the Wellesley (Mass.) Group Twenty Players.

The McCarter Experiment. Incorporated in the spring of 1960, the APA emphasizes the production rather than individual performers. The group insists on being booked as a company and on producing its own plays, from stage managing to publicity. Star listings are against its policy, despite the fact that the company includes several well-known performers.

The APA and Princeton University joined forces last Spring in what has come to be known as the McCarter Experiment: A series of University-sponsored drama seasons presented in McCarter, during which APA is entirely responsible for producing plays suggested by a faculty committee.

Main purpose of the experiment, according to Professor Alan Downer, chairman of the faculty committee, is "to encourage people to go to the theatre frequently, and as casually as they might sit down for an evening with a book."

The experiment, Professor Downer said, is trying to "develop a performing 'library' of the stage: a program that will make available a comprehensive selection of live performances much as a library makes books available."

Price for a subscription to all five plays in the winter series ranges from $12 to $13. Subscriptions or single tickets may be obtained by writing to McCarter Theatre, Box 526, Princeton.

FRY WORK SCHEDULED

For Trinity Church. Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners" will be given by Trinity Couples in the nave of Trinity Episcopal Church on Friday and Saturday, January 27 and 28, at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

G. Grenville Cuyler will direct the production and Stuart Duncan will serve as producer. The cast will be composed of Victor Preller, John Miller, A. Monroe Wade and John Hamel.

Mrs. Hunt Myers is in charge of costumes, Michael Stevens is lighting director and Mrs. Myron Easton publicity director.

BUT I DON'T SEE ANYTHING! Spectators find material for gossip, though, in this scene from the classic children's story, "The Emperor's New Clothes," to be presented next Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. at McCarter Theatre. This will be the first of four Tuesday afternoon offerings in the Borough PTA Children's Entertainment Series. Ticket information may be obtained by calling WA 4-0617 between 9 and 11 a.m.

Directors Named

Handling the direction of the five Shakespeare plays will be Stephen Porter, Allen Fletcher, David Wheeler and Ellis Rabb. Mr. Porter, director of "Right You Are" during the fall season, will direct "King Lear" and "Twelfth Night."

"Midsummer Night's Dream" will be directed by David Wheeler, who was in charge of "Cat and the Moon." Ellis Rabb, the director of "Seagull" and "Anatole," will turn his skill to "Hamlet."

Since his "Man and Superman" appeared here, Allen Fletcher has directed "Cosi fan Tutte" at New York's City Center and "Borak", a Civil War drama given off-Broadway. He will return with "As You Like It."

America, you would call them drifters." Thus is solved the only problem of consequence that the film poses, and it can end happily.

Robert Mitchum portrays the head of a family which roams throughout the bush country of Australia in the mid-1920's, moving first from sheep ranch to sheep ranch and then from race track to race track. Deborah Kerr is the long-suffering wife who wants to settle down and raise her son, Michael Anderson, Jr., in a normal way. Joining the family in its travels is Peter Ustinov in a delightful comic performance.

Mr. Mitchum's roll calls for a big, strong, sleepy-eyed individual, and he comes off very well in it, as those qualities are the limits of his acting abilities. Miss Kerr is warm and believable as the wife of indomitable will and love for her wandering husband and son.

It is in technicolor.

The Grass Is Greener (January 18—24) presents Cary Grant, Deborah Kerr, Robert Mitchum and Jean Simmons in an overlong but thoroughly funny color comedy about love among Britain's indigent rich. Grant, looking for all the world like a somewhat handsomer and more statesmenlike Jack Kennedy, is the best thing in the show, handling the usually witty dialogue with more aplomb and verve then any one man ought rightly to possess.

He is a bright but financially hard-pressed British earl, who has taken to guiding tourists through his ancestrial mansion in an attempt to augment his income. His wife, Miss Kerr, is just mild about Cary, and she falls decorously but enthusiastically into the arms of American millionaire Robert Mitchum, who visits the place. Miss Simmons is a London Divorcee, a friend of Miss Kerr and a hemused admirer of Grant. After Miss Kerr has gone off for a week in London with Mitchum, Grant invites the American to spend a weekend at the house, and tries to find a way to regain Miss Kerr's affections.

It goes on and on in this vein, but the dialogue (by Hugh and Margaret Williams) is clever enough to fend off tedium. Noel Coward did the musical score, and Stanley Donan was the producer-director. As the foregoing plot outline indicates, this is not kiddie fare. Recommended.

THE GARDEN

Carry On Nurse (January 10-14) is another fine British comedy of the standard type: a series of improbable scenes, many bordering on the slapstick, that contains enough double — takes, double — entendres and double — talk to keep the laughter coming.

The scene is the men's ward of an English hospital, and is peopled with all the stock characters one would ever hope to find in one picture. A capable British cast is as adept at facial expression as dialogue. Special praise must go to Kenneth Connor for his hilarious portrayal of a punch-drunk boxer.

As is standard in such pictures, the nurses are either incredibly beautiful or very plain. The action is a series of episodes which are drawn out just enough to sustain interest and are then dropped. Director Gerald Thomas plays some of them just for one laugh; he gets it usually, and moves on, so that we get the sensation of watching a series of comic blackouts. The story is negligible. Recommended.

The Old Man and the Sea (January 16). "I had a good man and a good boy, and the sea is always worth writing about," was Ernest Hemingway's self-deprecating comment about the novelette from which this 1958 film was taken. Producer Leland Hayward was in much the same position: he had a good man (Spencer Tracy), a good boy (Felipe Pazos) and the sea, abetted and enhanced by the sensitive color camera work of James Wong Howe and others. The results, in both the original and the adaptation, were moving works of art occasionally faulted by an excess of Hemingwayan starkness and hairy-chested terseness.

The plot — and knowing it in advance won't have anything to do with whether or not you like the film — is as follows: An old Cuban fisherman, whose name is The Old Man, has not caught a fish in nearly three months. Only a little boy, whose name is The Boy, still believes in the man. One day the man catches a huge fish. Before he can get the fish back home it is devoured by sharks.

Tracy, who is on screen alone for most of the film's 86 minutes, gives a splendid, virtuoso performance. His face, his eyes and his body along with his mutterings and a recorded (by Tracy) narration, carry the show with the aid of nothing but the boy, the fish and the sea. Its' a fine picture, all the more so when you consider how tempted some producers would have been to "enhance" it with a busy little subplot or maudlin romance. Recommended.

Royal Ballet (January 17-21) is an excellently performed and photographed film featuring Margot Fonteyn, Michael Somes, Leslie Edwards, Bryan Ashbridge, Alexander Grant and Julia Farron with the Corps de Ballet of the Royal Opera House and the Covent Garden Orchestra.

The program, in color, includes Act II of Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake," Stravinsky's "The Firebird" and Hans Werner Henze's "Ondine." Dr. Paul Czinner, who used four cameras three years ago to record "The Bolshoi Ballet," has increased the number of cameras to 11 for this one; you'll be able to see the action as well as any paying spectator who can't sit still.

LA GUICHE!

Turn the Other Cheek, Too. Greeks and French always seem to have a word for it and "it", at the moment is that 1920's curl on a cheek which the French call "la guiche". You'll have to hunt around a little in your Cassell's to find it, but the hairdressers brush aside (you'll pardon the double entendre) etymology and prefer to talk style instead.

The hairdresser we are quoting now is Mr. Dane, currently and through January 21, at Bamberger's Chantrey Beauty Salon to guide your guiche and outline for you the philosophy of its curve.

"The guiche is the softening for a woman's face," explains Mr. D., "The curve of the guiche can be gay, flippant, dignified or sophisticated, but in any case it provides delightful flattery for what could otherwise be a severe short-haired bob."

In addition to the guiche, which curves its way about your cheek, Mr. Dane likes the forehead fringes that slant, swirl or curve at all lengths about your forehead, stopping just short of the eyebrow, or leaving most of the forehead bare.

Mr. Dane and Chantrey believe in the importance of a good permanent for your newly styled short cut, and they suggest the "petticoat perm," a new kind of wave which is especially suited to short hair styles.

"When a girl's party dress has a bell-skirt effect, everyone knows she has accomplished the effect with underlayers of petticoats, even though they cannot be seen," says Mr. Dane, whose experience has apparently been a broad one. "That's how I feel about my new permanent wave technique: much of it is understood, if not seen!"

The new permanent, which allows the introduction of a guiche into your coiffure, allows the operator to control the degree of curl to prevent end kinks or dryness.

PALM AND HIBISCUS

At Hay and Clover. They've abandoned the hayseed for the coconut — temporarily, of course — at Hay and Clover, and you'll find in the shop all kinds of clothes to wear under palmettos. Palmettos. You mean those long, ruffled underpants ladies used to wear? Well, not quite.

Pure silk is the order of the day at Hay and Clover. Striped shirtwaists in red or navy on white provide a staunch backbone for anyone's spring and resort wardrobe. These are made with three - quarter sleeves deeply cuffed, a straight skirt and slash pockets.

A silk suit in olive or navy consists of a straight dress with cap sleeves and notches in the neckline which correspond to notches in the wide collar of the brief jacket. This jacket has four pearl buttons, elbow sleeves and a tidy fit.

Vera Maxwell has a silk print that somehow escaped from a Jackson Pollack show. Its cut is as simple as its print is bold, with down-the-front closing, short sleeves, a U-neckline and pearl buttons. The same dress comes in a carnation pink print. (Wear either with Vera's white wool box coat with wrist - length sleeves, tremendous high pockets and dish buttons.)

Well, leaving silk behind for a moment, we come to that southern perennial, the linen sheath. This time we find it in a greyed-off royal blue — Air Force blue, it was once called — fashioned without collar or sleeves and noted at the middle with a self belt and a dog-collar brass clasp.

Linen appears again in a pair of raspberry shorts. In the same set, sage green skirt

Southern Accent

One of the most impressive pieces of resort clothing we have seen this season is also one of the simplest.

It's a white shirt with classic collar and long cuffed sleeves, made to go with a pair of silk slacks as slim as an exclamation point and just as catching. Look for them both at Hay and Clover.

The great thing about this shirt is the fabric. It's the finest, silkiest all-wool challis you ever saw; in fact, we thought the shirt was silk at first.

Because it's wool, it is a creamy white, rather than a chalk white and its warm creaminess is enhanced by a 12-inch panel of embroidery on each side of the button front. Each panel is a formal arrangement of flowers and leaves in pale rose and olive green, and the slacks that go with the shirt pick up the olive of the leaves.

MUSIC
In Princeton

MRS. HARSANYI TO SING

Recital This Saturday. Works ranging from Schumann's "Frauenliebe und Leben" to compositions by Aaron Copland and Roger Sessions will be included in the recital this Saturday by Mrs. Janice Hersanyi soprano. The recital which is sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton will be held at 8:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh Hall on the University Campus. Vladimir Sokoloff pianist will accompany Mrs. Harsanyi.

Mrs. Harsanyi will begin her program with the Schumann work a cycle of eight songs which has been high in the repertoire of all great Lieder singers for more than 100 years. This will be followed by a group of four songs by the French composer Gabriel Feure including "Apres Un Reve."

A brief intermission will follow during which there will be talks by Paul Bedford Princeton '97 and Elliott Forbes. Mr. Forbes is professor of music at Harvard University and chairman of the advisory council of the Department of Music at Princeton University.

Following the intermission Mrs. Harsanyi will sing "Let the Florid Music Praise" by Benjamin Britten; "Old Poem" by Aeron Copland; "Song" by Malcolm Peyton and "On the Beach at Fontana" by Roger Sessions. The recital will conclude with five songs by Hugo Wolf including "Mignon" and "Das verlassene Magdlein."

The concert is open to members of the Friends of Music without charge and to all others at $2 a ticket. Tickets are now on sale at the University Store and may also be bought at the door the evening of the concert. A section of the hall will be reserved for members of the Friends of Music until 8.25 p.m.

WARSAW GROUP HERE

In Varied Program. The Warsaw Philharmonic, which has been acclaimed for its programming as well as for its superb musicianship, will present a program of romantic and modern composers in McCarter Theatre this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. The Philharmonic is appearing in Princeton under the aegis of C-K-Productions.

Three contemporary Polish composers will be represented on the program. They are Karol Szymanowski, whose first violin concerto will be performed by Wanda Wilkomirska; Grazyna Bacewicz, one of the foremost women composers of Europe and Antoni Szalowski, whose "Overture" will open the program. In addition, the Warsaw Philharmonic will play Beethoven's Seventh Symphony. Tickets will be available at the McCarter boxoffice.

HARPSICHORDIST PLAYS

Kirkpatrick in Recital. A harpsichord recital by Ralph Kirkpatrick is always an event of artistic merit; the one he gave in McCarter Theatre on Monday night was no exception. Mr. Kirkpatrick is an artist who rightly considers the musical values first in his selection of tempi, phrasing, articulation, and registration, rather than aiming primarily at virtuoso display as do a considerable number of harpsichordists today.

It seems a pity, however, that Mr. Kirkpatrick chose to limit the interest of his program by the inclusion of so large a number of what may fairly be termed "old chestnuts." Harpsichord programs, like orchestral programs, have their over-played warhorses, and Bach's "Italian Concerto" and "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue," fine pieces that they are, must be included among these.

Harpsichord recitals, while not yet commonplace, do occur frequently enough to warrant the substitution of some other large-scale Bach works for these ubiquitous favorites. The finest rendition of the familiar (and Mr. Kirkpatrick's performances were very fine) cannot take the place of that variety which is so essential an ingredient to a vital musical life.

RECITALIST: Mrs. Janice Harsanyi, soprano, will give a concert this Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh Hall.

One questions, too, the custom of representing the French 18th Century clavecin literature with a selection of short pieces, chosen from here and there, furthering the widespread but mistaken impression that these composers never wrote a work of any size or scope. On the contrary, the suites from which Mr. Kirkpatrick excerpted Couperin's "Allemande La Tenebreuse" and "Les Barricades Mysterieuses" both stand up very well as large-scale works — works which do not deserve to be chopped up and included as members of a "potpourri" of encore pieces.

Similarly, some of Mr. Kirkpatrick's Rameau selections came from the E minro Suite (a drastically cut "La Villageoise," "Rigaudons," "Musette" and "Tambourin"), and the remainder came from the A major Suite (the "Sarabande" and the familiar "Gavotte and Doubles"). Both these suites are far more effective when played in their entirety.

The French selections also included one of the most remarkable works in the harpsichord literature, with which Mr. Kirkpatrick opened his program: the dissonant and majestic Chambonnieres "Chaconne."

The program concluded with six Scarlatti sonatas (and a seventh as an encore). Ralph Kirkpatrick is a well-known authority on Scarlatti, but more importantly, his approach to these works in performance is unique and supremely musical. It is a great pleasure to hear these works played for their musical and expressive substance, rather than being used solely as a vehicle for pyrotechnics and acrobatics, as is so often the case.

As is true of almost every performer, Mr. Kirkpatrick's playing contains some personal eccentricities: one in particular disturbed this reviewer, namely the habit of continually playing ornaments —both mordents and trills— before, instead of on the beat. Whatever reasons there may be for this are surely known only to Mr. Kirkpatrick; as he surely must realize, there is no evidence that this conforms to the performance practice of the period.

Another detail deserves prominent mention. Mr. Kirkpatrick performed on a first-rate harpsichord (a Hubbard and Dowd Feskin copy) built by two of the three really fine harpsichord builders in this country (the third, incidentally, is Christopher Barnister of nearby Hopewell, N.J.). And what a difference this made to Mr. Kirkpatrick's recital, compared to the ugly and strident John Challis instrument upon which he used to perform.

By and large, Ralph Kirkpatrick's recital was a very fine one. He has a superb sense of legato and voice leading, and is a thoughtful and sensitive performer. This is true of all too few herpsichordists. This recital was a worthy addition to this year's Series II concerts.

buttons down the front with flat brass buttons, and a round-collared print blouse (in cotton) picks up the raspberry and olive of short and skirt.

Maybe you'd prefer a sheer wool full skirt pulled in with box pleats and secured around the waist with a soft sash. Comes in dull gold or plum You'd prohably weer with it a paisley silk shirt with bow at neckline.

Other skirts, these from Hong Kong, are cut straight without pleats, out of navy, bright red or cream wool. Those Hong Kong sweaters and silk shirts go with them. (Incidentally, you'll want that bright red H.K. sweater with navy and white grosgrain ribbon down the front.)

A white jacquerd shirt dress has a very small collar and a violet, blue and turquoise ribbon belt to match a tropic sunset.

Bill Atkinson is represented on the Hay and Clover racks with a beige and brown constellation which features leaf prints in brown against the beige of a tailored shirt fastened with brown wooden buttons. Sugar maple, plum, basswood leaves are arranged in rows and labelled for botanists to examine. A straight skirt in beige has a spice velvet belt, and the belt appears again around a cafe au lait monk's dress with a deeply cowled neckline.

WHITE IS BRIGHT

"Interiors" Paints Interior. Nassau Interiors has brightened its own new year with a coat of white paint. The cheerful off-white shade has been applied to all the walls in the Nassau Street Shop and the result is a coup d' oeil which makes you think the shop is twice as large.

In addition, furniture has been shoved to the rear of the shop and the general feeling is one of space, space, space.

Nassau Interiors plans to emphasize, from now on, its collections of fine upholstered furniture, in contemporary, treditional or Colonial styles.

To begin with, they show off with some pride a Chippendale sofa, pleasantly scaled, with three seat cushins, mahogany legs, bowed back and gently curving arms — well, you know Chippendale. At the moment, the upholstery is an ivory damask, but you could have pele jade and gold, among other choices.

Small - scale lounge chairs are favorites of the shop this year, and they will be favorites of yours if you have a small house or a small study. Backs, example, are no more than 36 inches from the floor, arms are low, but the seat has plenty of room — we tried it for size in a bulky winter coat.

These are several styles: curving arms or straight ones, squared off, masculine lines or curving, feminine ones like the charming little chair with tufted seat and back and rounded back.

In the same style is a short sofa, falling between the standard sofa and the love-seat in size. It has two cushions on seat and back, and two loose pillows, one against each arm. A real love-seat has curving arms, tufted back and plain, two-cushion seat. We saw it in a wide-eyed iridescent green, but you could have it any way you like.

Nassau Interiors' also has good, sizeable standard couches, many of them done in tapunto work to set off the pattern of chintz or polished cotton. One has loose pillows against the back and spring-down construction.

Arms are tailored and squared, skirt is straight and pleated and cushions are square and notched to fit the arms on another sofa with modern lines. The floor sample has iridescent grey-gold fabric to give a lift to the uncompromising line.

Topics Of The Town

John F. Mount, Township Committeeman on the Planning Board, said he had told a group of Riverside property owners that he would inform them when the Grey Farm matter was due to come before the Planning Board, but that he had not done so.

"I might have to take the blame for these people not knowing," he said, and he asked Mr. Frothingham if they might be heard, even though the meeting was not technically a public hearing.

Mr. Frohingham said it was the policy of the Board to allow anyone to speak, but he pointed out that the Board had already taken its final action.

Mr. Ferrington asked whether Riverside residents could be legally "noticed" and a public hearing held again. Mr. Frothingham said the Planning Board would consider this; however, in later executive session, it decided to let its original approval stand.

A Matter of Timing. As Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, reminded Mr. Ferrington, the developer of a proposed subdivision is required by law to notify property owners by mail and to publish his plans in the newspapers at the time he presents his preliminary plans to the Planning Board, not at the time his final plan comes up for approval.

The public hearing is held on these preliminary plans which, despite their name, almost all pertinent data on the development.

After this public hearing, which occurred some two years ago in the case of the Grey Farm, the developer has three years in which to bring his final plan before the Planning Board. If it conforms with the approved preliminary, he is entitled to final approval. If it differs substantially, he must submit a new preliminary plan and the Board must hold a new public hearing.

These precedures are outlined for municipalities in the state's Municipal Planning Act of 1953.

At the Planning Board's November meeting, Mr. Test was told that, if he wanted to eliminate the Lake Drive extension, he would have to bring in a new preliminary plan. He can still do this at any time, Mr. Griffin points out.

However, Mr. Test has told the Planning Board that the University is not interested in another public hearing unless it is reasonably certain of favorable action. The Board has that this would be the case.

School Plan Approved. In other action, the Planning Board approved the site plan for the Board of Education's new Community Park School on Witherspoon Street. The plan provides for one-way traffic in from Witherspoon and out by John Street during rush hours. The projected driveway could be used as a two-way route during off-hours, Board architect O. Kline Fulmer said.

The driveway has been placed south of the school to provide a buffer between the school and Tiger Bus Lines, to keep the school from being separated from the rest of Community Gardens; and to keep traffic as far away as possible from the Valley-Witherspoon intersection, Mr. Fulmer stated.

The building has been laid on the site at an angle, veering away from Witherspoon Street toward the northwest to escape traffic noises. The kindergarten rooms are farthest from Witherspoon. Rear doors lead to the gymnasium and to locker-rooms so that those using the Community Gardens recreation areas will have easy access to these accommodations.

A formal survey of the plot is behind schedule because of the weather, Mr. Fulmer said. Actual transfer of the deed from Community Gardens to the Township is contingent upon the completion of this survey.

ACCIDENT INJURES FOUR

As Two Cars Collide. A two-car accident Saturday shortly after noon at the intersection of Jefferson and Valley Roads injured four persons, one of them seriously.

Township Police said that the driver of one car, Mrs. LuAnn Finnegan, 22, of Hopewell, driving east on Valley Road, failed to observe the "stop" sign. She struck a car being operated by Miss Loretta Hammel, 23, of 10 Park Place.

Miss Hammel was admitted to Princeton Hospital with a broken collarbone, and released four days later. Treated at the hospital for contusions of the chest were Miss Ann Havanek, 24, 10 Park Place, and Joseph Hovanek, 64, Swoyersville, Pa. Mrs. Finnegan was referred to her own physician for a possible back sprain.

HELD ON MORALS CHARGE

Princetonians Plead Guilty. Two Princeton residents, Edgar A. Riddick, 21, of 121 Birch Street, and Judson M. Carter, 22, of 45 Clay Street, have been committed without bail to the Mercer County Jail to await grand jury action on a morals charge.

The two men were arraigned last week in Township Court before Magistrate James S. Hill. Both pleaded guilty to the charge, which involved a young girl. Township Detective Fred Porter was complainant in the case.

ASSAULT REPORTED

By Princeton Woman. Borough Police Chief Reymond Mondone said this week that a woman resident of Princeton Borough has reported being assaulted by an unknown man Friday evening on College Road between Springdale Golf Club and the Graduate College.

Chief Mondone said that the woman reported that she was walking along the road at 10:45 p.m. when a man jumped out from behind the shrubbery and grabbed her. The woman told Chief Mondone that she fought the man off and then hailed a passing taxi and went to the police station.

She decribed the man to Chief Mondone as being about 30 years old, white, 5 feet 10 inches tall, about 150 pounds, with a crew hair cut. TOWN TOPICS is withholding the woman's identity.

MRS. WAXWOOD NAMED

As Director of YWCA. Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., 363 Witherspoon St., has been appointed to the post of executive director of the YWCA, according to an announcement from Mrs. William H. Sword, president of the "Y"'s Board of Directors.

In her new position, Mrs. Waxwood will direct a staff of three full-time program directors as well as other full-time and part-time employees. With the Board of Directors, she will plan and direct the program for the entire YWCA membership, which now includes 2,500 women and girls from the Princeton area.

A resident of Princeton for 25 years, Mrs. Waxwood became adult program director of the YWCA in 1958 and acting executive director in 1960. She has participated in a wide variety of community activities and has, at various times, served on the Board of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Board and curriculum committee of the Adult School. She is a member of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. Her husband is principal of Witherspoon School.

PLACES STILL OPEN

In Fiction Course. Miss Caroline Gordon, noted writer and teacher, has announced that there are still places open in her Friday night course in the techniques of fiction which will be held at Miss Fine's School from 8 to 9:55 p.m. starting Friday, January 27. The fee for this Princeton Adult School course is $10.

"Open House" for the school will be held next Thursday from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Princeton High School cafeteria. This is the only time new students may register for the language courses, all of which are being continued from the fall term. There are only a few places still available in each of these language sections and in the lecture course in Contemporary French Literature which will be conducted entirely in French by George Mathow-Tolevy of the French department, Princeton University.

NEW DIRECTOR: Mrs. Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., active for many years in the affairs of the Princeton YWCA, has been named executive director of the organization.

The first hour of the general lecture series this term will be devoted to "The American Expriment," a course which will be concerned with the development of the American Idea from its inception to the present. Speakers will discuss the Revolutionary heritage, the American as a reformer, the American hero, the melting pot and waves of immigration, American literature, new American horizons and the Woodrow Wilson ideology, the mechanization of America and the American Negro.

Shaw Livermore, assistant professor of history at Princeton, will direct this series and will give the opening lecture, "What is the American?"

Registration for Adult School classes may be made by writing to P.O. Box 701, Princeton.

TEACHERS TO MEET

To Discuss Curricula. The Princeton Branch of the Association for Childhood Education International will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Littlebrook school to hear Dr. Lucille Lindberg, associate professor of education at Queen's College who will speak on curricula for the Kindergarten and first grade.

The Princeton branch of the Association is concerned with integrating professional standards and objectives of Borough and Township elementary teachers and anyone who is interested in the work of the group is invited to attend Tuesday's meeting.

RENEWAL STUDY AGAIN

By Planning Board. Urban renewal is under study once again by the Princeton Borough Planning Board. The new studies were ordered by the board at its meeting last week, following receipt of a directive to that effect from Borough Council.

Sudies will be made during January by Arthur T. Brokaw, Borough engineer; Francis McHugh, planning consultant, and the Housing Authority. Progress reports on their studies will be made at the next meeting of the Planning Board scheduled for Tuesday, February 7. Daes for public hearings on urban renewal will also be set at this meeting.

NOMINATIONS TO OPEN

For Hospital Board. Nominations for members of the Princeton Hospital's board of trustees will open this Friday, and close at midnight on Wednesday, February 1. The nominating committee is composed of George W. Conover, chairman; Richard G. Macgill and Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom. Nominations should be sent to Mr. Conover at the Hospital.

THAT THEY MAY READ

Braillists Aid the Blind. Mrs. Margaret Kennard of 183 Birch Avenue, is a quiet, dignified, rother shy woman who passes the hours of her blindness by working over Braille manuscripts and proof-reading them so that blind children or blind scholars will be able to read books that are absolutely flawless in every detail.

Mrs. Kennard is the only Braille proofreader in this area and she does her work for the Princeton Braillists, a group of about 40 Princeton residents who either support or work actively for the blind.

Of this group of 40, eight are active "Braillists"; that is, men and women who operate the Perkins Brailler that does the actual Braille embossing. Learning Braille is a difficult intellectual exercise, and these eight men and women have completed a 20-week course which is actually the equivalent of a full semester's college course.

To pass, they must be able to "type" 50 pages with only three or four mistakes. When they have passed, they receive a Library of Congress certificate qualifying them as Braillists and teachers of braille.

A new class began this week for six new pupils under the guidance of Mrs. H. J. Harding, current president of the Princeton group. Members of the class learn on a bank of seven Perkins machines, and as each member begins to "find his feet," in Mrs. Harding's words, he buys his own Perkins at a cost of about $95.

Once a Braillist has his Perkins (there is an 18-month wait for these machines) and his certification, he is ready to go ahead. Princeton Braillists will copy any book requested by a legally blind person without charge from funds supplied by the other members of the Princeton Braillists who contribute to the work of the organization.

"We do almost any kind of book you can think of except college texts," explains Mrs. Harding. "Those are done by Recording for the Blind on records. We do a great many children's books, and adults' books for the New York Library for the Blind."

There is particular need for children's books in Braille and for beginners' sentences that little children can puzzle out for themselves. One Braillist has written Christmas stories for two little blind girls who had never been able to discover Christmas for themselves. Others have made a Braille calendar, recipe books for blind cooks, and two small Catholic prayer-books.

At the moment, there is on file a request for a Braille volume of T.S. Eliot's poems, and another for a certain literature course blocked out in Braille.

"We can never keep up with the demand," Mrs. Harding says, "Because it takes a long time to render a book into Braille: for example about 25 pages a day is all you can do on a school book.

The cumbersome, lengthy process of rendering a book into Braille has come to the attention of research workers at Western Electric who have been sending representatives to Princeton Braillist classes. Two of them will join the January group.

Mrs. Kennard, the Princeton proof-reader, learned Braille about ten years ago, and then learned proof-reading by mail from the Library of Congress. She also taught herself to type.

The work of the Princeton Braillists keeps Mrs. Kennard steadily busy (she is the only person affiliated with the group who works on a professional basis) and she fits in her proof-reading work between household tasks.

At the moment, she is working on a volume of philosophy. When she finds an error, she makes note of it with a stylus on a little hand slate — a kind of Braille pocket notebook, or makes corrections on her own Perkins Brailler.

The active, producing Braillists in the Princeton group are, beside Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Wilbur York, Mrs. Frederick F. Stephan, Mrs. Frank Mountcastle, Mrs. A. F. Bausch, Mrs. John Wallace, Mrs. A.S. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Benjamin Merritt and Harvey Goldsmith. Only Mrs. Harding and Mrs. York are certified as teachers of Braille.

BRAILLIST AND BRAILLER: Mrs. Wilbur York is the new president of the Princeton Braillist, whose work is described in an article on this page. In addition to transcribing books into Braills on the Perkins Brailler, which she is using in this picture, Mrs. York devotes her time to revising the textbook used to teach Braille transcription. A new class for prospective Braillists will begin this week. (Staff Photo)

In other court action, Joseph Carter, 22, of 45 Clay Street, was fined $30 after pleading guilty to charges of assault and battery. The complainant, Jasper S. Black of 218-B Halsey Street, charged that Carter struck him on New Year's Day.

Question of the Week

Question: What do you think of this country's decision to break off diplomatic relations with Cuba?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Niles Sutphin, 50 Pine Street, architect: I can't say that I agree with it. I think our relations with Cuba should have been that of a father toward a wayward son. So far as our breaking off relations with Cuba and our cutting off their sugar quota, I feel we should have adopted the French attitude of laissez faire. I think the entire problem would have ironed itself out in time. I feel now it is going to be a much more serious problem to restore friendly relations with them.

Mrs. Gioia Brock, Old Georgetown Road, housewife: I think we had to. We couldn't have maintained our dignity otherwise. Besides we had already bitten off our nose to spite our face by cutting off trade relations with them. They've circumvented our not sending arms to them to maintain their military by getting them from Canada. Having already thus cut ourselves off from them, it was futile to pursue diplomatic relations.

David McCloskey, 21 Bank Street, clerk: They should have broken off relations the day Castro shook hands with Khrushchev in New York. Cuba has bitten the hand that fed it. If it weren't for American Industry and capital, they wouldn't have advanced to where they are today.

Henry Rosso, Jr., 16 Madison Street, tavern owner: I think they did the right thing in breaking off relations. I don't see why we should be friendly with them after Castro accused us of preparing for an invasion of Cuba. He is far-fetched about that or our being an aggressor. We would never have any reason to invade them.

Jerry Kiernan, North Post Road, Princeton Junction, mover: I think it was a smart move. I think Castro is definitely in with Khrushchev. The demonstration they had the other day showing all those Soviet weapons in a parade proves that. That he is working hand in hand with Khrushchev will show in time.

Mrs. Frank Engle, 110 Bayard Lane, nurse: From the standpoint of Cuba's decision to reduce our embassy, I think our answer was the only one possible. We may have dillydallied too long as it is in not taking action sooner. We may have prevented the Communists from taking over.

Paul H. Letlecq, Edinburg, Seminary student: I think it is important to keep open avenues of communications between countries in order to keep alive a hope for a reconciliation. How do you go about restoring relations once they have been broken without one side having to loose face? Also, this will give them an added push toward communism. This is exactly what we did to Nassar.

Mrs. Alberta Bennett, 188 Witherspoon Street, school crossing guard: As far as Fidel Castro is concerned, I think it was a wise move because I believe that, inevitably, he is trying to start a war with us. This is foolish because we each have things the other country needs. We should try to live on a friendly basis.

Adrian Colley, 227 1903 Hall, University student: I would say, off hand, that it was inevitable, that it was coming all along. As far as whether it was right or wrong, I don't think Eisenhower had any choice in the matter; he was forced into it by Castro. The Kennedy administration, I believe, will follow the same policy. I will say I was very surprised that Eisenhower took such sudden action.

Mrs. Mervyn Stone, 115 Bayard Lane, housewife: In this instance, I think we were justified. There doesn't seem to be any use in worrying about them anymore. I don't believe it will make much difference to America, financially or any other way, to cut them off. Who can run an ambasssadoriel post with only 11 people?

Robert H. Bisbee, 51 Maddock Avenue, Trenton, field engineer for RCA: Under the circumstances, I think it was the proper thing to do. You can take just so much from a maniac. Cuba was acting just like Russia, setting a grass fire here and there to see how much we would take. I'm for it.

Mrs. Madeline Schomp, Teak Lane, housewife: I think the government knew what it was doing. I've helped elect it, and until it is removed from office, I feel I've given it the power to act for me. In other words, I believe in our government.

Harry Vino, Bloomfield, salesman: I think we should have done what we did. The United States has to maintain a certain dignity and we couldn't go on getting insulted forever. Castro was just getting too big for his britches.

Mrs. John V. Blakebaker, 3 Green Avenue, Lawrenceville, secretary: I think they are doing the right thing in breaking off diplomatic relations because I think Cuba has been leading us to this kind of drastic action which they could use to prove that we are their enemies. But at the same time time, it is a very disturbing step because it usually means no chance for further negotiations of any kind.

Karl Zapf, Jr., 1 Madison Street, assistant librarian: I think it's a good idea. I don't think we want to get tangled up in that mess, especially with Russia getting deeply involved in Cuban affairs. I feel we should stay as far, far away as possible.

Mrs. Marlos Irvine, 6 Greenholm, homemaker: Maybe we shouldn't have done it at this time. I still feel we could have remained friends. They did try us, though, an I don't blame Eisenhower at all for what he did. I hope we will still be friends with the Cuban people.

Mrs. Helen L. Getty, 75 South Stanworth Drive, homemaker: I think it's quite time we did. It's perfectly ridiculous to be insulted the way we were by Mr. Castro. I believe that most Latin American countries will break off relations with Cuba as well.

HAPPY WELCOME: Tommy Toperczer of 171 Harrison Street was all smiles last week as he greeted his step-sister, Orsika von Gulacsy, for the first time. Miss von Gulacsy, 17, was reunited with her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Toperczer, after a four-year separation. Mr. and Mrs. Toperczer, Hungarian refugees, came to this country in 1956, but Miss von Gulacsy was refused admittance because she had tuberculosis. Now almost recovered, she was allowed to enter the U.S. because Princeton Chapter of Deborah Hospital sponsored her. Tommy, who was born in Akron, Ohio, is the only American citizen in the family — and the only one who can't speak English. (Photo by Alan Richards.)

Report from THE MAYOR

At Constitution Hall. On Monday morning, President Eisenhower addressed the delegates to the first White House Conference on the Aging. As usual, the President entered the hall with a brisk step as the Marine Band sounded the Ruffles and Flourishes and he walked to the platform to the strains of "Hail to the Chief."

On the eve of the inauguration of his successor, the Marine band may have been unaware of the significance of one of its songs in a Cole Porter medley just before the President's arrival. They played "Another Opening, Another Show."

The President, himself, seemed in a light-hearted mood. He spoke without manuscript or notes and seemed most serious when he commented that this important meeting would be the last time he would have he privilege of welcoming such a group during his term of office.

Many Changes. The President noted the importance of facing the problems affecting the 17 million Americans who have passed their 65th birthdays. Many of the special problems, he said, arise out of the change from a pioneer civilization to our present very complicated society.

He indicated his awareness that the conference had already created some snarks on the one most controversial issue: medical care for the aging. Princeton's own Doug Brown, Dean of the Faculty at Princeton University and one of the drafters of the original social security legislation, was in the thick of the discussions on this issue, backed by a Jersey delegation that had previously gone on record as favoring his stand that the financing of such care should be done as an extension of the social security system.

Other Princetonians spotted at the meetings included delegate Joel Sterns, a Woodrow Wilson School graduate and possibly the youngest delegate from the 50 states, and Mrs. Janet Harbison, accredited as a press representative. Governor Meyner spoke at a Monday evening session on the role of government in facing some of the special problems of our senior citizens.

Open House Schedule. The regular weekly "Tell It to the Mayor!" sessions will be held on Thursday, January 12, and on Tuesday, January 17, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Sharp Pencils. The various departments of the Borough government have been putting finishing touches on their budget requests for the coming year. The next stage is review by the Finance Committee.

Chairman Redding has been noticed sharpening his pencils in preparation for the annual chore of tightening and pruning the original estimates. By the end of the month, the total budget picture should be ready for perusal and action by the Council. This is a major effort in which every taxpayer has a vital interest.

Planning. The members of the planning board continue their homework in pondering the recommendations of the consultant planners. On Wednesday and Thursday of this week, meetings of board subcommittees were scheduled with Dodd McHugh to begin the process of decision-making.

ARTHRITIS GROUP SET

Public Education Main Aim. Plans for organization of a Princeton Committee of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation were made at the home of Mrs. William Byrd, 34 Westcott Road. Main aim of the new committee will be public education regarding arthritis through every possible medium, including a public forum in the near future.

Chief speaker at the meeting was Gordon R. Barrett, executive director of the New Jersey Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. Stating that a total of 400,000 persons in New Jersey are afflicted with arthritis, Mr. Barrett said that modern medical therapy can assuage the pain caused by the disease and ward off severe crippling.

Mr. Barrett added, however, that there are not enough treatment facilities to look after all those who desperately need medical care. One of the functions of the new Princeton Committee of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation will be to enlist workers to raise funds so that people in the Princeton area can benefit from sound medical care and therapeutic rehabilitation.

Those invited to the planning meeting were: Mrs. Hamilton Cottier, 4 Orchard Circle; Mrs. C. du P. Donaldson, 162 Library Place; Mrs. Harold Erdman, 639 Princeton-Kingston Road; Mrs. Warren Kearny, Hun Road; Mrs. Seymour Morris, 87 Rosedale Road; Mrs. H. C. Sturhahn, The Great Road, and Mrs. John C. Williams, 120 Winant Road. Anyone interested in joining the Princeton Committee is asked to call Mrs. William Byrd at WA 4-0381.

PLAN PROGRAM BOOK: Discussing plans for the program book of the New Jersey State Ball with Governor Robert B. Meyner are Nancy D. McEllone of 309 Ewing Street (left) and Mary C. Perone of 244 Witherspoon Street. Princeton area program co-chairmen, they are in charge of securing advertising for the book. The ball will be held February 18 at the Stacy Trent Hotel, Trenton. All proceeds will go to the Mercer County Chapter of the National Foundation.

WILD FLOWERS TOPIC

At Dogwood Garden Club. Wild flowers and arboretum planting will be discussed this Thursday, January 12, at a meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club of Princeton.

Speaker will be Mrs. W. Brooks Evert of Riverton, New Jersey. The meeting, which will begin with a business session at 1 p.m., will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack G. Copeland, 61 Overbrook Road.

DECISION FAVORS MCD

In Deerfield Housing Case. A decision favorable to Modern Community Developers Inc. 84 Nassau Street has been handed down by the U. S. Court of Appeals in Chicago in the Deerfield housing case. The decision reverses that made previously by Federal District Court Judge J. Sam Perry who dismissed the MCD suit.

MCD is a national private company which builds integrated housing. Progress Development Corporation the bought two sites totalling 22 acres in Deerfield on all-white Chicago suburb in 1959. The corporation's plans for construction of integrated housing were explained at meetings arranged by the American Friends Service Committee.

When the integrated sales policy became public the Deerfield Park District took steps to condemn both sites for parks. Immediately afterwards on December 22 1959 MCD and Progress filed suit in the Federal District Court in Chicago charging violation of the U.S. Civil Rights Act and of the 14th Amendment which provides that no state shall deprive any person of property without due process of law. MCD and Progress also asked $750,000 damages.

ENGSTROM TO SPEAK

At Chamber Meeting. Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, senior executive vice-president of RCA, will speak on "Understanding Our Scientific Age" at the annual meeting of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce next Monday at 8 p.m. in the YM-YWCA Building on Avalon Place.

According to Ralph S. Mason, president of the Chamber, there will be a very short business meeting so that most of the evening can be devoted to Dr. Engstrom's address. Mr. Mason has announced that the basic philosophy of the address will be used as a basis for new activities and projects scheduled by the Chamber for 1961.

A director of RCA, Dr. Engstrom joined the organization in 1930. His early work included participation in the development of high power radio transmitters, installation of transmitters and broadcast receivers. In later years, he was responsible for radio tube research and apparatus and systems work.

NEW LAB OPENS

On State Road. Stony Brook Laboratories, Inc., devoted to the design and development of analog and digital data processing systems and components, has opened a laboratory and office at 55 State Road.

The firm, founded last August, has been providing engineering consulting service to companies active in the data processing and electronic fields. Now, with the opening of its new office, Stony Brook will move into the direct promotion of its own developments in the electronic field.

At present, the new firm is negotiating with a nationally known computer organization for the manufacture and sale of a new system, a digital-analog memory device.

The president of Stony Brook Laboratories, Commander C. Fink Fischer, 329 Mercer Road, has announced that the policy of Stony Brook will be to concentrate in the area of hybrid analog-digital development, in the belief that there is an expanding field for firms who can combine the technology of the two systems.

Commander Fischer has been a resident of Princeton since 1951, when he began two years' of graduate work at Princeton University. Before his retirement from the Navy in June, 1960, he led a group which developed computer control of the Navy's human centrifuge, the device which permits Astronauts and pilots of the X-15 to "fly" vehicles in order to determine what design changes are necessary.

Associated with Cmdr. Fischer in the Stony Brook enterprise are two engineers, Adolf Futterweit of Levittown, Pa., and Thomas F. Droege of Hatboro, Pa.

LAHIERE-KANE EXPANDS

Leases Additional Space. Lahiere - Kane Inc. Rambler Peugeot and Renault dealer has signed a lease with Douglas Corlette for Mr. Corlette's garage at 18 Charlton Street. The building will give Lahiere-Kane an additional 7000 square feet of space.

The garage which Lahiere-Kane has already occupied will be used for the storage and display of used cars taken in trade according to Herbert R. Kane president of the firm. Buyers will however call first at the main showrooms on Spring Street, because there will be no sales personnel at the Charlton Street address.

The added space will also be used to receive shipments of new cars tnd to wash, polish and prepare them for the new car showrooms on Spring Street.

"Our service department has grown considerably in the last few years" Mr. Kane said in making the announcement. When this growth is added to the increased volume of our car sales we found our present space insufficient to provide the kind of service we are so anxious to give."

PARTS SHOP OPENS

For Wholesale Business. Dunfield Auto Parts of Trenton, will open a branch on January 23 at 262 Alexander Street in the Rosedale Lockers Building. This is the first branch store for the Trenton firm, which has been in the auto parts business for two years. Dunfield will specialize in the field of wholesale distribution. In the new 2,000-square foot shop, Dunfield will handle complete lines of automotive parts and supplies for foreign and domestic cars, with delivery service on all sales.

The two partners in the firm are Sidney Lipps and Bernard F. Berkowitz, both of Trenton. Mr. Lipps will oversee the operation of the Princeton branch.

REINSURANCE CO. FORMED

By Earle W. Deacon. The formation of Deacon and Company Inc. Reinsurance Consultants and Intermediaries has been announced by its president Earle W. Deacon. The new corporation whose activities will be inter-national in scope is located at 195 Nassau Street.

Specializing in Reinsurance since 1947 Mr. Deacon had previously served in various underwriting capacities with National Surety Corporation and The Travelers. Between 1947 and 1952 he was affiliated with General Reinsurance Corporation before joining Alexr. Howden and Co. Ltd. of London. He has been retained as a consultant by the latter firm in connection with its developments in the United States.

TIGERS START FAST

In Ivy Title Defense. A chance to take a commanding lead in the Ivy Basketball League race confronts Princeton's quintet this weekend. The Tigers play host to Brown Friday and Yale Saturday: If they win, as expected, the resulting 4-0 mark they will take into the two-week examination break will give them a big advantage for February's stretch run.

Brown, figured with Penn as a pre-season favorite to dislodge Cappy Cappon's operatives, has been somewhat hellow par to date. Below the .500 mark overall, it lost its opener to Yale at New Haven and then had considerable first half trouble Saturday before turning back Harvard at Providence.

Junior Mike Cingiser, a 6-4, 215-lb. forward who ranked third in Ivy scoring a year ago, and classmate Greg Heath, 6-5, 210, are literally Brown's big boys. Captain Forrest Broman at 6-3 and Ted Gottfried at 6-5 give the Bruins as tall a team as there is in the league.

Bill Madden is Yale's top shooter, Captain John Dowd the Elis' best tall (6-4) operator. With Yale and Harvard, the Bulldogs are the only other Ivy teams beside Princeton to have topped the .500 mark in pre-season games. Both Brown and Yale may give the Tigers trouble when the Orange and Black faces them on successive road games February 10 and 11, but if they win in Dillon Gym it will be a major upset.

POINT BLANK RANGE: Paul Burgert and Chris Gordon (18) storm Brown cage in Saturday's hockey game as Tigers kept goalie Rod McGarry under constant pressure with total of 47 shots. Princeton collected 5-1 victory. (Town Topics Photo by Philip Shambaugh.)

TOWN TOPICS' circulation of more than 12,000 is better than double that of any other Princeton newspaper.

Kaemmerlen Flashes Fast. In topping Columbia and Cornell away from home for a pair of welcome road triumphs the Tigers got valuable second half help from center Al Kaemmerlen. Slow to fire up, he was held to a lone basket during the first 20 minutes in each game.

Against Columbia, he then collected 21 in the second half, helping the Tigers move from a slim 30-28 half-time lead to a satisfactory 76-66 victory. It was a typical Cappon triumph: all five starters went the distance, all five finished in double figures.

Kaemmerlen's 23 paced the triumph, while Pete Campbell followed with 21. Captain Don Swan and Art Hyland each had 11, while Jack Whitehouse, now firmly entrenched as a starting member of the team, contributed 10.

Rally Tops Cornell. It was an uphill victory at Ithaca on Saturday night, and again Kaemmerlen's second-half play was a major factor. The 6-4 Tiger starts too slowly but his second-half play in the last few games has been outstanding.

Against Cornell, he was good for 11 points in the final 20 minutes, a smaller total than against Columbia but just as welcome in a relatively low-scoring game. Top man for the Tigers was sophomore Art Hyland (see "We Congratulate") with 10, while Campbell with 16 and Kaemmerlen's 13 were Princeton's top three totals.

From an early 12-4 advantage, the Tigers fell back to a 27-all tie, trailed briefly by two and then took a 34-33 lead at the intermission. Midway through the second half, Cornell sharpshooting put the home team ahead by 46-40, but Kaemmerlen began to hit, Hyland was extremely helpful on outside shots and the Princeton rally was on.

With 7.10 to go, it was 53-all and Kaemmerlen connected again. With three minutes left, the Tigers were freezing well to protect a 60-57 lead when Campbell was fouled. After having made six straight free throws, the 6-1 junior missed, Cornell grabbling the rebound.

The Ithacans could not, however, maintain their earlier pace and their attempt to come within a point was wide. Campbell fed Whitehouse for a fast break and when the latter went in all alone for an easy layup, the five-point spread was all the Tigers needed.

Sports In Princeton

Biggest surprise of early Ivy action has been the two defeats administered to Penn, top pre-season choice to chase the Tigers down to the wire. The Quakers lost to Cornell at Ithaca by five as Captain Bob Mikvy was held scoreless and then returned home only to lose to Columbia in the Palestra by seven. The Lions' coach, Archie Oldham resigned the afternoon of their game with Princeton and the effect on the team has been suprisingly beneficial.

SKATERS SPLIT

Despite Weak Defense. A better defense might have given Princeton's hockey team an upset victory over Clarkson last week, the Tigers eventually yielding a 2-0 advantage and a later 3-2 margin as the invaders made off with a 5-4 triumph. Two days later, on Saturday, the Orange and Black coasted by an abnormally weak Brown team, 5-1.

Clearing passes laid right on the stick of an opposing player; a tendency to skate directly in front of the Princeton goal with the puck; and too many penalties all proved costly in the Clarkson defeat. Captain Barry Van Gerbig gave a fine performance in making 38 saves, but the five that got by were more than even a standout goalie could handle.

In order, Hugh Scott scored twice in the first period for the Tigers, followed by a picturesque tally by Johnny Cook in the second and the final goal by Billy Miller in the third round. After , coasting through the first period, Clarkson turned on the pressure and had enough left after having beaten Yale, 8-4, 24 hours earlier, to trim the Tigers. But Princeton defensive lapses were a major factor in the eventual outcome.

In sharp contrast to the Clarkson game, Van Gerbig had to make only ten saves in the Brown contest. The 5-1 loss was the Bruins' 11th this season and 14th straight since last winter.

Miller and sophomore Jim Hyland each made a pair of goals in the one-sided victory over Brown, with Scott contributing the other. Princeton led 3-0 before a blue-line shot beat Van Gerbig just before the first period ended to rob him of a shutout.

The Tigers were scheduled to take on a fast skating Providence sextet Wednesday before traveling to Ithaca Saturday. The expected victory over Cornell would give them a 3-0 mark in league play but the tougher games lie ahead.

OTHER SPORTS

Swimmers Set Record. Ability to better his own Princeton mark in the 50-yard freestyle was demonstrated by George Brekeley as the Princeton swimming team topped Columbia, 60 to 35. The Tiger captain covered the distance in a fine 2:11.9. Cornell will provide Saturday's opposition in Dillon Pool at 3:30.

The sub-par wrestling team was swamped, 20 to 8, by Columbia, but the fencers edged Navy, 14-13, and the squash team topped Army, 6-3. John Conroy's racket squad faces Cornell here Saturday at 2.

WE Congratulate

ART HYLAND
Princeton Guard

It wouldn't be Ivy League basketball if it weren't full of surprises, and the young 1961 season hes already produced several of them. Tops to date are the disappointing showing of highly-regarded Pennsylvania, which lost its opener to Cornell, and the solid showing of the Ithacans in upsetting the Quakers and battling Princeton down to the wire.

There were 4200 fans in Barton Hall for Saturday's contest between the Tigers and the Red, a game in which first place was at stake. The see-saw battle went to Princeton—largely because the only starting member of either team who had never played in Barton Hall before hit on a tremendous 58 percent of his shots and led both quintets with 19 points.

For sophomore Art Hyland, who cracked the Tigers' starting lineup nn his preseason form, this wes no flash-in-the-pan. Averaging 14.8 points in Princeton's first nine games, he has been in double figures on every occasion this season save at Villanova.

His high mark for the campaign is 29, a welcome performance in that it was contributed during the overtime victory against Rutgers at New Brunswick. Over-all, he is hitting at a fine 44 percent ratio—the kind of shooting that enabled him to break Princeton's freshman scoring record last winter with 301 points on the season.

Hyland is the back-court man in the Princeton scheme of things. If the opposition tries an all-court press (as Brown may Friday night), the pressure of bringing the ball across the ten-second line falls first on him. Against either a zone or a man-to-man defense, he puts many of the plays in motion.

The 6-0, 175-lb. resident of Allentown, Pa. has a fine outside shot but can go down the keyhole in the Zappon weave with equal dexterity. There are a dozen games left in the Tigers' drawn-out defense of their Ivy title, but one big factor in their valuable two victories away from home hes been the all-around balance that Hyland is contributing. The key to a second championship was ability to replace Jim Brangan, and Art Hyland is doing it very well.

HUN QUINTET STOPPED

For First Setback. A rusty shooting eye brought on by three weeks of inactivity and an unfamiliar zone press employed by Delbarton combined for a 58-46 Delbarton victory Saturday and Hun School's first defeat in two games. The Red and Black will try to get back on the right track when it takes on Admiral Farragut at Toms River on Saturday. On Wednesday, it meets Solebury, defending champion of the Penn-Jersey League in an all-important game to be played at the New Hope, Pa. school's home court.

Saturday, in the first, third, and fourth quarters each team scored a total of 38 points. The difference occurred in the second period when Delbarton used a zone press to telling advantage to outscore the home team 20-8. "It wes our first experience with the press," said Hun coach Dan Barren, "and we pressed the panic button."

More accurate shooting by the Hun five, the zone press notwithstanding, would have brought its second win. "After our first game with Bryn Athyn, I told the boys they weren't shooting enough," reported Barren. "This time we shot 71 times and hit on only 28 percent."

The losers were also off at the foul line, converting six of 17 trys. "I told them if we had made only one-third of our shots from the floor and one-half of our foul shots, we would have won by one point," said Barren.

Top scorers for Hun were Tommy Petrone with 17, C.A. Hale, 15, and Jay Maynell and Jim Byer with eight apiece. Despite a height advantage enjoyed by Delbarton, Meynell with 17 rebounds and Byer with 11, helped Hun to out rebound the winners 41-38. It was Delbarton's fourth victory in five games.

LAWRENCEVILLE TOPPLED

By Peddie, 64-59. With four players hitting double figures, undefeated Peddie School edged previously unbeaten Lawrenceville on its home court Saturey, 64-59. The lead changed hands on numerous occasions throughout the hard-fought game and was tied, 52-52 with four minutes remaining.

Top scorer of the contest was Lawrenceville's Chuck Miller who hit for 36 points. High man for Peddie was Bernie Capaldi with 25.

The home team lead at the quarter, 20-15, but the Larries fought back to a one-point deficit at half-time. The teams battled on even terms till the four minute mark at which point Peddie pulled awey by four on a set shot by Spooner and a Capaldi layup. Miller's basket halved the lead but Peddie then swished five straight points to insure the victory.

The Larries now stand 2-1. Saturday they will meet visiting B.M.I. at 2:30.

Elsewhere, Shelton Motor (64) led Grover Lumber by two and a half games in the "A" loop with only one week remaining in the first part of the season. With three weeks remaining in Industrial League action, Para Lab Supply, Nassau Service and the Reformers were all tied for first with 56 points, while Tiger Garage was only one game back. Decker's Dairy (60) topped Nassau Service by three games in the Women's Industrial League, and the Roses held a one-game margin over the Totos (28) in the Mixed League.

Steve Tamsky led the "A" loop in individual high games with 235, while Harry Kahny coupled 222-214 for a 618 series. Other notable scores included Frank Cawley, 231; Bob Seulerati, 209; Fred Goeke, 202; and Nelson Smith, 200 in the "A" League; and Andy Durmmond 221 and Val Ranallo 201, in the Industrial loop.

Other top scores included Mal Tindall, 219; Harry Kahny, 215; John Cashill, 210; Ken Luck and Vinnie Ross, 209 each; Bucky Cupples and Brice Rittenhouse, 206 each; and Art Parr; 202, in the Firemen's loop; Marilyn Lowe, 208; Carol Harris, 200-183; Betty Snyder 193; Millie Trani 189; and Barbara Danser, 180, in the Women's League; and Betty Steck, 201; Barbara Danser, 200; Marilyn Silvester, 193; Helen Tamasi and Mary Haas, 191 each; Betty Kleiber, 184; and Marilyn Lowe, 180, in the Women's Industrial League.

PHS FIVE ON THE ROAD

Until February 1. Still looking for its first win in 1961, the Princeton High School basketball team will play its next four games away. Tuesday, it meets Long Branch High and will engage South River, Somerville, and Freehold on their home courts before returning home against B.M.I. on February 1.

The Little Tigers lost their fifth game in six outings Tuesday to visiting Bound Brook. Each team entered the contest with identical 1-4 records. A the final buzzer, the Crusaders had earned their second victory, an easy 17-53 conquest.

Marty Perdue, the only junior on the all-senior Crusader team, got the game's first basket, and his team's first six points. The Blue and White enjoyed its only lead early, when Gil Fisher drove through for two lay-ups and Hank Schmidt and Bill Kowalski each added another for an 8-6 edge.

After four and one-half minutes of play, the score was tied at 10-10. That was as close as the home team was to come. Bound Brook then clicked for eight straight points to go ahead for keeps.

Once again, inability to convert fouls, (nine for 30) and poor passing paved the way to defeat. The highlight of the game, from the losers' point of view, was Gil Fisher's fancy, driving lay-up shots. He was the leading point-getter for Princeton High with 17.

PLAY TO START FRIDAY

Boys who are interested in playing in the League may contact the YMCA for further information. Those unregistered by Friday will not be able to participate.

New equipment has been ordered from Philadelphia, and it will be installed as soon as carpentry, painting and general repairs have been completed.

Until the re-opening, the dentists are treating emergency patients at Princeton Hospital. In addition to Dr. Roll and Dr. Pickering, the following dentists occupy the offices: Dr. Charles Rice, Dr. Warren Dodson, Dr. John Scully and Dr. Richard Sanborn.

News Of The CHURCHES

CHURCH UNION TOPIC

At First Presbyterian. A proposal for the union of the United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, and Methodist Churches and the United Church of Christ will be discussed this Friday at 6 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church by the man who originally made the proposal last December.

He is Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., who made the proposal in a sermon preached December 4 in Grace Cathedral in San Francisco.

In his sermon, Dr. Blake said: "I propose to the Protestant Episcopal Church that it together with the United Presbyterian Church, invite the Methodist Church and the United Church of Christ to form with us a plan of church union both catholic and reformed. . . ."

Dr. Blake's suggestion has aroused the interest of lay people and clergy throughout the United States. The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, said that Dr. Blake's appearance here had been arranged in response to the requests of many Princeton residents, who have expressed an interest in knowing more about the proposal.

Open to All. Dr. Blake's talk, which will be held in the Assembly Hall of the church, will be open to all interested persons. A question period will follow the talk.

Moderator of the meeting will be Dr. E. Harris Harbison, professor of history at Princeton University. Professor Harbison is an elder at Second Presbyterian Church and a member of the board of trustees of Princeton Theological Seminary.

The panelists will deal with the overall theme of the series, which is "The Family, Religion and Mental Health." They will attempt to define mental health and to indicate what is being done by members of the medical profession and the clergy to bring about a healthier mental climate.

Remaining lectures in the series will be held alternate Sunday evenings through March 26. Topics will include "Avoiding Tension, Neurosis and Depression," "Our Changing Sex Morals" and "Adolescence and Family Crisis."
